

Differentiating Curricula/Inclusion: Why Bother?

This Keynote is designed to address the objections, concerns and mindsets that often challenge successful differentiated instruction or inclusion practices.

Participants will consider attitudes, expectations and beliefs that foster successful inclusion or set it up for failure.

Teachers, also, leave with several practical strategies that can be used immediately in all classrooms to promote higher achievement, memorization and learning.

The Keynote Motto is “Good for all; critical for the students with special needs”.
